PROBLEM STATEMENT

Ideally, a normal person would suffer to keep track of his daily expenses in his mind. This leads to him forget the entire expense history and make him wonder where the money has gone.

The proposed expense tracker application makes sure that the expenses are tracked category wise. It also provides monthly, daily and semi-annual expense-based graph analysis of the expense done.

The user will also be alerted via an email if the expense goes beyond a certain amount (the amount will be user set) with the help of SendGrid application.
